JOHN M. KNOX JOINS HARKCON, INC.

Harkcon, Inc. welcomes experienced program manager to fulfill company's expanding roll as workforce analysis provider

McLEAN, VA – Kevin Harkins, Ph.D., CEO and President of Harkcon, Inc. announced yesterday that John Knox has joined the firm as a Senior Program Manager. Knox will be assigned to projects with the National Institute of Standards and Technology in Gaithersburg, Maryland and the Defense Acquisition University at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

“John Knox has extensive background in information technology project management and, among other things, work force process and analysis systems,” said Harkins. “He brings skill sets that compliment and enhance our capabilities and is a ‘right fit’ to our team. I couldn’t be more pleased with his arrival.”

Knox joins Harkcon from Dell Services where he had been the Director for U.S. Coast Guard programs and Program Manager of the Coast Guard-wide IT support services, web support services, and software development contracts. While there he was responsible for directly managing multiple project task orders and leading a geographically dispersed team of over 165 personnel in executing these technical support services for the Coast Guard. He also led the development of the USCG Manpower Requirements Analysis database application. He had been with Dell (formerly Perot Systems Government Services (PSGS)) since 2006. Prior to joining PSGS, Knox was a commissioned officer in the U.S. Coast Guard and retired with over 21 years of active duty service.

“I am very excited to be a part of Harkcon,” said Knox. “I’ve known and worked with members of the Harkcon team since 1981 and look forward to an exciting and long term relationship as part of the team.”
